Message from APH Press Staff

APH Press supports the mission of the American Printing House for the Blind – “Empowering people who are blind or low vision by providing accessible and innovative products, materials, and services for lifelong success.”

We welcome accountability from our stewardship of professionals, educators, students, and families, as we are dedicated to providing timely and accurate information from the most qualified experts in the field. Our authors are practitioners who have years of experience working with clients in a clinical setting or educating future professionals at college and university programs.

Because APH Press is the leading publisher in the field of visual impairment, not only do we attract the most knowledgeable writers and editors, but we also locate those specialists who will become the voice of the next generation with diversity, equity, accessibility, and inclusion in mind. To that end, we strive to publish texts that promote the independence and empowerment of people who are blind and visually impaired.

Additionally, as the technological landscape expands rapidly, we hope to develop novel approaches to ensure the Press continues to be beneficial and relevant to our customers. Digital technology has changed the way information is disseminated in the field, and our eBooks are produced with the utmost respect for and attention to accessibility solutions.

Editors in every field must have a dedication to language and craft, but because our work is in the field of visual impairment and blindness, APH Press also requires passion from our staff. Our books are well-researched, innovative, and inclusive, as expected, but they are also handled by people who are dedicated to the field and future of accessibility.

FQ

The second edition of Guidelines and Games for Teaching Efficient Braille Reading offers unique ideas for adapting a general reading program to the needs of braille readers.

Based on research in the areas of rapid reading and precision teaching, this handbook serves as an invaluable resource to both supplement and enrich early braille instruction for parents and teachers of those who are blind or visually impaired. The activities and games presented in the book enhance the traditional teaching of braille reading skills from the preschool level through Grade 3. The book also offers suggestions for working with remedial readers, regardless of age.

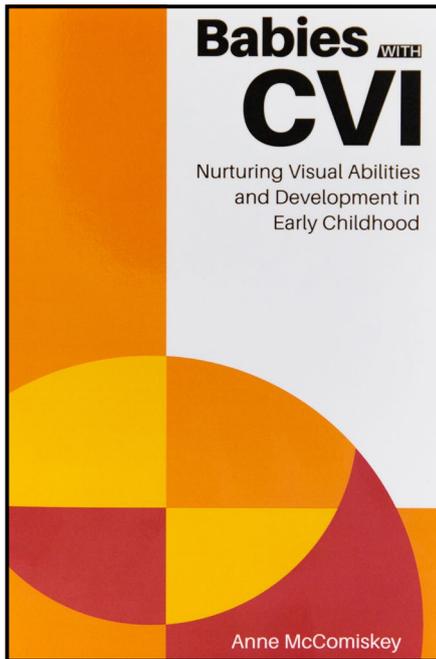

Commemorating the 40th anniversary of the book's original release, the text was updated to reflect advances in technology that have made braille more accessible in a digital format, such as refreshable braille devices, digital notetakers, and translation software. The writers have also incorporated new research on teaching braille literacy, as well as current best practices for teachers of students with visual impairments.

This book contains chapters on the following topics:

- Preschool experiences important to emergent braille readers
- Activities for teaching braille more efficiently at the beginning level
- Ideas for working with striving readers
- Adding spice to a Braille Reading Program with Activities and Games

Babies with CVI: Nurturing Visual Abilities and Development in Early Childhood

Anne McComiskey

ISBN 9781950723003

F-B0061-00 $51.95

F-B0061-EPUB $31.95

APH Press is proud to offer this guide through the history and best practices related to the treatment of CVI in children from birth to 36 months.

Babies with CVI: Nurturing Visual Abilities and Development in Early Childhood is based on the author's nearly five-decade career working with families in homes and classrooms. Understanding and knowledge about effective interventions to address the visual skills of children with CVI evolved enormously over that period. Babies with CVI reflects that evolution. The book presents specific approaches, strategies, and activity suggestions that families and visual impairment professionals can use to meet the unique learning needs of a child with CVI. It stresses the importance of early intervention, proper evaluation, and integrating teaching opportunities into the child's daily routine.

This book contains chapters on the following topics:

- Supporting Parents of Babies with CVI
- The Visual System
- Cerebral Visual Impairment
- Creating a Home Action Plan
- Developing Visual Skills
- Early Visual Development Guide
